

Giezendanner News

Happy 2016!

We wish you only the best that the year will bring...

2015 saw the Giezis taking root in Switzerland. We moved into our new apartment in June and since then have made a house, a home.

Sarah and Nadiah are now in the same school. Their bond continues to deepen and they are at a fantastic phase. Sarah is becoming very much a book worm since the last third of the year. Her German has improved tremendously and she has even started writing her own books. Nadiah is learning to read and as if promised by the Swiss school system, she is able to read simple books by herself by Christmas.

Vacation wise – we went to Nauders, Austria for skiing in January, Singapore in summer (as usual) and horse riding stint in fall.

One of the few highlights of the year for us were the visits we had from Singapore. Nyayi (Nora's mom) came to stay with us for two months, our niece for a couple of weeks and an old school friend for a few days. It was great having them in our new home and fun taking them around our haunts around the country.

Thanks everyone for keeping in touch wherever you are and preserving our friendship throughout the year. And if you plan to be in this part of the world, please give us a shout. In the meantime:

Prosit Neu Jahr! Selamat Tahun Baru!
Happy New Year!

2015 in a flash

- We moved into our new Swiss home and are loving it....Nyayi moved into our new Sea Esta apartment in Singapore
- Skiing, horse riding and 4.5 weeks in Singapore....great vacation
- Kids are at a fantastic phase of their lives
- 3 visitors from Singapore made homesickness tolerable...

It takes hands to build a house, but only hearts can build a home.

Keep in touch!